- "Omar told his gunmen to fight to the death, yet he has surrendered rather than risk his own life. He was prepared to sacrifice others but not prepared to do battle himself. That is typical of the man." (Afghan Foreign Ministry worker Zahir Faqiri; The Daily Mirror [U.K.], 12/7/01)

Message

The President today is visiting New Windsor, Maryland, to help send off the first shipment of humanitarian aid purchased from funds donated by America's children. To date, American's children have donated more than $1.5 million to help the children of Afghanistan.

The shipment will leave this weekend and will contain vital supplies and some fun surprises for the children of Afghanistan, including:

- 1,500 tents to provide shelter for Afghan children and families that will provide shelter for approximately 10,000 children.

- 1,658 winter jackets to help children through the winter.

- 10,000 gift parcels, including winter hats, wool socks, soap, school supplies, crayons, toothbrushes, hairbrushes, candy, and toys to bring a little joy to children who have endured terrible hardship. Each gift parcel is marked "A Gift to Afghan Children from American Children."

This shipment of goods will be sent to the northern Afghanistan provinces of Faryab and Balkh.

Federal Express has donated the flight to take this first shipment to the region. On Sunday morning the plane will depart Dulles Airport for the flight to Ramstein Air Base in Germany. In Germany the shipment will be placed on Department of Defense flights that will then fly the shipment in Ashgabat, Turkmenistan. From Turkmenistan, the shipment will be placed on trucks and driven into northern Afghanistan.

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. World Food Program – with U.S. assistance – has established a goal of dispatching 100,000 metric tons of food aid into Afghanistan during the month of December.

- So far in December, more than 11,000 metric tons of food aid have been delivered to Afghanistan.

- 180,000 families in Kabul are being registered to receive food aid. Each family will receive a 50 kg bag of wheat, which is enough to feed one family for one month. This aid will benefit more than 1 million Afghans.

Message

The President today is visiting New Windsor, Maryland, to help send off the first shipment of humanitarian aid purchased from funds donated by America's children. To date, American's children have donated more than $1.5 million to help the children of Afghanistan.

The shipment will leave this weekend and will contain vital supplies and some fun surprises for the children of Afghanistan, including:

- 1,500 tents to provide shelter for Afghan children and families that will provide shelter for approximately 10,000 children.
- 1,658 winter jackets to help children through the winter.
- 10,000 gift parcels, including winter hats, wool socks, soap, school supplies, crayons, toothbrushes, hairbrushes, candy, and toys to bring a little joy to children who have endured terrible hardship. Each gift parcel is marked "A Gift to Afghan Children from American Children."

This shipment of goods will be sent to the northern Afghanistan provinces of Faryab and Balkh.

Federal Express has donated the flight to take this first shipment to the region. On Sunday morning the plane will depart Dulles Airport for the flight to Ramstein Air Base in Germany. In Germany the shipment will be placed on Department of Defense flights that will then fly the shipment in Ashgabat, Turkmenistan. From Turkmenistan, the shipment will be placed on trucks and driven into northern Afghanistan.

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. World Food Program – with U.S. assistance – has established a goal of dispatching 100,000 metric tons of food aid into Afghanistan during the month of December.
- So far in December, more than 11,000 metric tons of food aid have been delivered to Afghanistan.
- 180,000 families in Kabul are being registered to receive food aid. Each family will receive a 50 kg bag of wheat, which is enough to feed one family for one month. This aid will benefit more than 1 million Afghans.

Message

The President today is visiting New Windsor, Maryland, to help send off the first shipment of humanitarian aid purchased from funds donated by America's children. To date, American's children have donated more than $1.5 million to help the children of Afghanistan.

The shipment will leave this weekend and will contain vital supplies and some fun surprises for the children of Afghanistan, including:

- 1,500 tents to provide shelter for Afghan children and families that will provide shelter for approximately 10,000 children.
- 1,658 winter jackets to help children through the winter.
- 10,000 gift parcels, including winter hats, wool socks, soap, school supplies, crayons, toothbrushes, hairbrushes, candy, and toys to bring a little joy to children who have endured terrible hardship. Each gift parcel is marked "A Gift to Afghan Children from American Children."

This shipment of goods will be sent to the northern Afghanistan provinces of Faryab and Balkh.

Federal Express has donated the flight to take this first shipment to the region. On Sunday morning the plane will depart Dulles Airport for the flight to Ramstein Air Base in Germany. In Germany the shipment will be placed on Department of Defense flights that will then fly the shipment in Ashgabat, Turkmenistan. From Turkmenistan, the shipment will be placed on trucks and driven into northern Afghanistan.

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. World Food Program – with U.S. assistance – has established a goal of dispatching 100,000 metric tons of food aid into Afghanistan during the month of December.
- So far in December, more than 11,000 metric tons of food aid have been delivered to Afghanistan.
- 180,000 families in Kabul are being registered to receive food aid. Each family will receive a 50 kg bag of wheat, which is enough to feed one family for one month. This aid will benefit more than 1 million Afghans.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

A PREVIEW

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands in unity on December 11, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event on the Capitol steps.

State Events. Events will take place in states all across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

EXAMPLES OF WORLD EVENTS

The world response to the President's call for remembrance events has been strong. In fact, events will be held in more than 70 countries tomorrow. Below are some examples of countries where events will take place. Countries continue to contact us with their events so the below list is in no way comprehensive.

Brett -

Another question on Washington state - an AP reporter is looking to find out how many times Sens. Murray and Cantwell have met with Judge Gonzales
- and/or how many times the have met with WH Counsel's office. I have given these sort of numbers out before (we did it for Hawaii - however - I am not sure whether the circumstances are different there or not) - but not sure whether it is appropriate in this case.

Thoughts?

Ken

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Agriculture, Commerce, HHS, HUD, Transportation, Customs, ATF, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Supreme Court. Justice Rehnquist will host an event at the Supreme Court.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "A train packed with humanitarian aid crossed into Afghanistan along the Friendship Bridge from neighboring Uzbekistan yesterday, to the delight of relief agencies, who have been campaigning for the frontier to be opened…Aid agencies hope that opening the bridge across the Amu-Darya river, which marks the border between Uzbekistan and Afghanistan, will help the plight of hundreds of thousands of people in Northern Afghanistan." (Nicholas Watt; The Guardian [U.K.], 12/10/01)

- "Authorities have arrested a man with suspected ties to Osama bin Laden's al-Qaida network who may have participated in the 1998 bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Kenya, police said Monday. Police spokesman Dola Indidis initially identified the suspect as Sheikh Ahmed Salim Swedan, whose name appears on a list of 22 most wanted terrorists issued Oct. 10 by President Bush. He was arrested Saturday in Mandera, 500 miles northeast of Nairobi on Kenya's border with Somalia." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

The World Will Always Remember September 11

- This morning President Bush will lead a worldwide series of remembrance events in more than 80 countries timed to take place at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST).

- Events will take place from the U.S. to the Czech Republic, from Botswana to Morocco, from the United Kingdom to Chile, from Pakistan to Palau.

- Today the world will join hands in unity, and the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

- The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

In Case You Missed It

- During the weekend of December 1-2, Canadian Prime Minister Jean Chretien and 10,000 Canadians descended on Manhattan as part of a "Canada Loves New York" celebration to show their support for the city. Singing "O Canada," they walked through the streets of NYC to show their support for the community.

Facts of the Day

- To date, the Department of Defense has airdropped 2,332,800 Humanitarian Daily Rations in to Afghanistan.

- So far in FY02, the U.S. Government has spent $183,270,873 on humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Agriculture, Commerce, HHS, HUD, Transportation, Customs, ATF, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Supreme Court. Justice Rehnquist will host an event at the Supreme Court.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

Brett,

Here are the stats for judges confirmed under Reagan, Bush 41 and Clinton. If you want data on nominees who were not confirmed, that's going to take some time because we'll have to assemble it ourselves from the Congressional Record (and from news reports to determine the racial background). Let me know.

Here's the data on the confirmed judges.

Let me know if you want more.

Jason

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "A train packed with humanitarian aid crossed into Afghanistan along the Friendship Bridge from neighboring Uzbekistan yesterday, to the delight of relief agencies, who have been campaigning for the frontier to be opened…Aid agencies hope that opening the bridge across the Amu-Darya river, which marks the border between Uzbekistan and Afghanistan, will help the plight of hundreds of thousands of people in Northern Afghanistan." (Nicholas Watt; The Guardian [U.K.], 12/10/01)

- "Authorities have arrested a man with suspected ties to Osama bin Laden's al-Qaida network who may have participated in the 1998 bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Kenya, police said Monday. Police spokesman Dola Indidis initially identified the suspect as Sheikh Ahmed Salim Swedan, whose name appears on a list of 22 most wanted terrorists issued Oct. 10 by President Bush. He was arrested Saturday in Mandera, 500 miles northeast of Nairobi on Kenya's border with Somalia." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

The World Will Always Remember September 11

- This morning President Bush will lead a worldwide series of remembrance events in more than 80 countries timed to take place at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST).

- Events will take place from the U.S. to the Czech Republic, from Botswana to Morocco, from the United Kingdom to Chile, from Pakistan to Palau.

- Today the world will join hands in unity, and the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

- The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "A train packed with humanitarian aid crossed into Afghanistan along the Friendship Bridge from neighboring Uzbekistan yesterday, to the delight of relief agencies, who have been campaigning for the frontier to be opened…Aid agencies hope that opening the bridge across the Amu-Darya river, which marks the border between Uzbekistan and Afghanistan, will help the plight of hundreds of thousands of people in Northern Afghanistan." (Nicholas Watt; The Guardian [U.K.], 12/10/01)

- "Authorities have arrested a man with suspected ties to Osama bin Laden's al-Qaida network who may have participated in the 1998 bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Kenya, police said Monday. Police spokesman Dola Indidis initially identified the suspect as Sheikh Ahmed Salim Swedan, whose name appears on a list of 22 most wanted terrorists issued Oct. 10 by President Bush. He was arrested Saturday in Mandera, 500 miles northeast of Nairobi on Kenya's border with Somalia." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

The World Will Always Remember September 11

- This morning President Bush will lead a worldwide series of remembrance events in more than 80 countries timed to take place at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST).

- Events will take place from the U.S. to the Czech Republic, from Botswana to Morocco, from the United Kingdom to Chile, from Pakistan to Palau.

- Today the world will join hands in unity, and the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

- The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

In Case You Missed It

- During the weekend of December 1-2, Canadian Prime Minister Jean Chretien and 10,000 Canadians descended on Manhattan as part of a "Canada Loves New York" celebration to show their support for the city. Singing "O Canada," they walked through the streets of NYC to show their support for the community.

Facts of the Day

- To date, the Department of Defense has airdropped 2,332,800 Humanitarian Daily Rations in to Afghanistan.

- So far in FY02, the U.S. Government has spent $183,270,873 on humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Agriculture, Commerce, HHS, HUD, Transportation, Customs, ATF, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Supreme Court. Justice Rehnquist will host an event at the Supreme Court.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "A train packed with humanitarian aid crossed into Afghanistan along the Friendship Bridge from neighboring Uzbekistan yesterday, to the delight of relief agencies, who have been campaigning for the frontier to be opened…Aid agencies hope that opening the bridge across the Amu-Darya river, which marks the border between Uzbekistan and Afghanistan, will help the plight of hundreds of thousands of people in Northern Afghanistan." (Nicholas Watt; The Guardian [U.K.], 12/10/01)

- "Authorities have arrested a man with suspected ties to Osama bin Laden's al-Qaida network who may have participated in the 1998 bombing of the U.S. Embassy in Kenya, police said Monday. Police spokesman Dola Indidis initially identified the suspect as Sheikh Ahmed Salim Swedan, whose name appears on a list of 22 most wanted terrorists issued Oct. 10 by President Bush. He was arrested Saturday in Mandera, 500 miles northeast of Nairobi on Kenya's border with Somalia." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

The World Will Always Remember September 11

- This morning President Bush will lead a worldwide series of remembrance events in more than 80 countries timed to take place at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST).

- Events will take place from the U.S. to the Czech Republic, from Botswana to Morocco, from the United Kingdom to Chile, from Pakistan to Palau.

- Today the world will join hands in unity, and the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

- The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

In Case You Missed It

- During the weekend of December 1-2, Canadian Prime Minister Jean Chretien and 10,000 Canadians descended on Manhattan as part of a "Canada Loves New York" celebration to show their support for the city. Singing "O Canada," they walked through the streets of NYC to show their support for the community.

Facts of the Day

- To date, the Department of Defense has airdropped 2,332,800 Humanitarian Daily Rations in to Afghanistan.

- So far in FY02, the U.S. Government has spent $183,270,873 on humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. The Environmental Protection Agency, the Department of Justice, Labor, Agriculture, Commerce, HHS, HUD, Transportation, Customs, ATF, Energy, Treasury, Veterans Affairs, OPIC, the Corporation for National and Community Service, FDIC, GSA, Peace Corps, and many others will hold events. The State Department will hold an event and Secretary Colin Powell will attend an event in London with Prime Minister Tony Blair.

Supreme Court. Justice Rehnquist will host an event at the Supreme Court.

Congress. The U.S. Congress will hold an event in the Rotunda.

State Events. Events will take place in states across America. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

"THE WORLD WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER SEPTEMBER 11"

SUMMARY

President Bush has asked countries across the world to hold remembrance events and to play their national anthems or appropriate music on December 11 (the three-month anniversary of the September 11 attacks) at the exact moment the first airplane struck the World Trade Center in New York (8:46 EST). The President has also asked the United Nations and U.S. embassies, posts and agencies to hold events in countries around the world. The President has also encouraged the U.S. Congress and citizens all across the world to join in this remembrance on December 11 by holding similar events in their communities.

The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision. We will never forget the innocent victims and the brave heroes that died attempting to save them. We will never forget the survivors, the children, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind. And we will never forget the victims who came from more than 80 countries, and many races and religions.

When nations around the world join hands today in unity, the light of freedom and opportunity will once again shine on the terrorists' dark and frightening vision of murder and fear.

PREVIEW OF EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

World nations, embassies, communities and individuals have responded overwhelmingly to the President's request. While it is impossible to list every single event that will take place around the world, the following events are representative of remembrance events that will happen on December 11.

EXAMPLES OF U.S. EVENTS

The White House. President George W. Bush will lead the worldwide initiative with the playing of the national anthem on December 11 at a White House event at 8:46 a.m. (EST). This event will be web cast live on the White House web site.

The Pentagon. The Pentagon will hold a remembrance ceremony at the exact moment of the Pentagon attack.

New York. Event will take place at Ground Zero. In Times Square, electronic billboards will flash patriotic messages.

Pennsylvania. Event will take place at Independence Hall in Philadelphia.

NASA. NASA will hold a special event in space on the International Space Station.

Cabinet Events. Several Cabinet department will host events. For example, Education Secretary Rod Paige has encouraged schools all across America to hold events and will hold an event at Duke Ellington High School in Washington, DC. For example, in Tennessee, the carillons at Bicentennial Mall in downtown Nashville will play a patriotic music medley for 30 minutes to remember the events of September 11. In Wyoming, after the National Anthem the Governor will release "Balloons for Freedom" at their event. In Illinois, the event will be held outside the State Capitol at the state firefighters and police memorials. In South Carolina the Governor has asked all South Carolina schools to recite the Pledge of Allegiance at the moment of the attacks. In New Hampshire the Governor will lead a ceremony on the steps the State Capitol.

Additional Department of Defense. Events will take place at military installations worldwide, including Italy; Germany; the US Coast Guard Headquarters; Norfolk, Virginia; USS Bataan in the North Arabian Sea; Omaha, Nebraska; Defense Security Service in Maryland; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Other Groups. Many groups across America are hosting events and celebrating in their own way. For example, Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity is leading a nationwide initiative to encourage events on college campuses, including a campus wide event at the University of Maryland and an event at the University of New Mexico. The American Legion will launch a special section on their web site for people who are not able to participate in a ceremony.

Dear Friend:
One of the nominations made by President Bush is not moving forward in the Senate. Judge Estrada though comes from a minority group (Hispanic), he is an eminently qualified gentleman for the job he has been nominated.
Please forward your requests to Judiciary Committee attn.: Senator Patrick J.
Leahy & Senator Joseph R. Biden
Also ask your two Senators (from your State) whose e-mail addresses can be found through http://congress.org by entering your Zip Code on "Elected Officials" and click go. And then click the picture, find the e-mail and send. (Copy & Paste)

Here is THE DRAFT LETTER for your convenience. Please modify as you please.

Dear Senator Leahy:
I, a registered voter, understand that on May 9, 2001, President Bush announced his first 11 nominations to the United States Courts of Appeals at a ceremony in the White House's East Room. One of those nominees was Miguel Estrada, a judicial nominee for the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit ("D.C. Circuit").
I understand that his nomination has not yet been approved by your Committee and hence has not been confirmed by the Senate.
No Hispanic has ever served as a judge on the D.C. Circuit Court. Estrada's nomination is therefore a historic event and represents one more important step in the breaking down of barriers for minority communities.
We understand, sir, that due to heavy workload on your Committee, the September 11 tragedy and the anthrax incident related to your Office may have hampered the progress in this case. We believe that now is the time your Committee can move forward with this nomination.
Estrada's qualifications are impeccable. He received an unanimous "well qualified" rating from the American Bar Association, which is the ABA's highest possible rating. Estrada's background and experience demonstrate why he received that "well qualified" rating.
After graduation from Harvard, Estrada earned a position as a law clerk for Judge Amalya L. Kearse, an influential and well-known judge on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in New York. Then in 1988, Estrada was selected to serve as a law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Anthony M. Kennedy.
A Supreme Court clerkship is one of the most prestigious positions a young lawyer can obtain. Estrada is one of only a handful of Hispanics ever to serve as a Supreme Court law clerk.
In 1992, Estrada returned to Washington where he served as Assistant to the Solicitor General at the U.S. Justice Department. The Office of Solicitor General represents the United States before the Supreme Court. Estrada served in that office from 1992 to 1997, in both the Bush and the Clinton Administrations. Estrada has now argued 15 cases before the U.S. Supreme Court, which is believed to be the most ever by a Hispanic lawyer. Justices of all ideologies on the Supreme Court have praised Estrada for his extraordinary intellect and the exquisite quality of his briefs and oral arguments.
Given Estrada's superb qualifications and experience, it comes as no surprise that his nomination is supported by many prominent Democrat lawyers, including: Ron Klain, who was counsel to Vice President Gore; Bob Litt, who was head of the Department of Justice's Criminal Division under President Clinton; and Randy Moss, who was Assistant Attorney General for the Office of Legal Counsel under President Clinton.
We believe that as a judge, Miguel Estrada will be a credit to the federal judiciary, the President, and all Americans.
THANK YOU for your consideration.
Sincerely,

We understand and acknowledge I close by reminding the lawyers ...

that we are members of a profession that imposes a duty upon us on behalf of the citizens of our respective states. When the Europeans first colonized America, some areas attempted to ban altogether the legal profession. But those efforts obviously failed. What our ancestors quickly learned is that lawyers are necessary in our society. Wherever there is civilization, particularly civilization where rights are respected and responsibilities expected, there will be a need for lawyers. We take an oath to serve and are trained to protect the property rights and liberty interests of others in our hearts we carry the hopes of those Americans who seek vindication of their rights…in our minds we hold the dreams of a better tomorrow with equal opportunities…and in our words, we manifest the spirit and righteous indignation of aggrieved Americans who demand justice. What a wonderful privilege we have been given.

But with this privilege comes responsibility. And aside from zealously protecting the interests of our clients, every lawyer is responsible for seeing that there is equal access to justice for all Americans…and I don't mean just the poor – many middle class families cannot afford good legal representation. Under our legal system, the average citizen has more protection against official oppression and private exploitation than anywhere else in the world. But of what use are theoretical rights if the cost to assert them is prohibitive, or the delay in vindicating them is interminable? It is not right that someone who is injured or discriminated against is unable to protect their rights and just because they cannot afford to hire a lawyer.

REV_00208311

Good afternoon and thank you. I am honored to speak at the annual meeting of Chief Justice and State Court Administrators in beautiful Seattle. This is only my second visit to the State of Washington. Twenty seven years ago as an 18 year old airman in the Air Force I reported to McCord Air Force Base en route to my first duty assignment at Fort Yukon, Alaska. I must confess that, 27 years later, I still feel like a soldier reporting for combat duty sometimes as I go in to work at the White House.

Congress will recess for a month at the end of this week. So this is a critical time in the legislative process. The Administration is working hard with members of Congress towards the passage of important legislation and the confirmation of judges and other political appointees. Despite the busy calendar, I made time for this because as a former state official, I know the importance of our state courts and the tremendous responsibilities that State Court Administrators and Chief Justices must discharge. And these responsibilities are likely to grow with the greater accceptance of federalism-a principle that rests on the understanding that the Constitution assigns the Federal Government specific, enumerated powers and reserves all others to the States.

REV_00208312

This principle-which has become increasingly important in the U.S. Supreme Court's recent jurisprudence, and is supported by this Administration-has important implications for State courts and state administrators. It means that more of the most important and, sometimes, controversial issues will be resolved at the state level, not the federal level. Thus, in the constitutional design of the United States, it is the people sitting here today who will often be in the hot seat on certain issues.

This is how it should be for many-not all-of our problems. Men like James Madison and Thomas Jefferson understood that placing power at the state and local level promotes stability. A national solution often satisfies a bare majority of the population. But 50 state solutions often is better. Then, subject to the Constitution, the solutions can be tailored to the different needs and beliefs of the people in different states, rather than a single, one-size-fits-all solution imposed from Washington.

In short, people like you-not people like me-should be making more of these important decisions. If this trend of constitutional governance continues, I anticipate that more and more important decisions of public policy will devolve upon the states and their government officials. That is, upon people like you and your legislators.

Despite what I see a movement of greater responsibility to you, however, I am aware that some of you do not have the resources to discharge even your current duties.

I know that most State Court Administrators are not budgeted enough money to retain good people, to maintain aging courtroom facilities, or to even buy new computer systems to keep pace with advancing technology. And Chief Justices must balance the personal and political needs of your colleagues and fight the political agendas of the other branches of government, all the while working to protect your court as an institution.

REV_00208316

More importantly, you must be ever mindful of the effects of the decision of your court on the jurisprudence of your State. It cannot be easy trying to accommodate the powerful egos of other colleagues (and I should know)-as well as the egos of legislators and executive branch officials who too often, in my opinion, do not have the appropriate respect for the third branch of government.

All of you have difficult jobs indeed. On behalf of the President, thank you for your service to your respective state and to our nation. And to my good friend Tom Phillips, a personal thanks for your wisdom and patience. Despite his lofty title as Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, Tom never took himself so seriously that he couldn't laugh at himself. He has been a good Chief Justice and a trusted friend-and the citizens of Texas are all the better for it.

I learned much during my two yours on the Court. It was a rewarding period of reflection and much personal and professional growth. Not surprisingly, my days as the Counsel are far different-at least in terms of having periods of reflection. I have less control my own schedule…I carry a pager and cell phone and must be instantly available at all times. I do not have large uninterrupted blocks of time during the day to sit quietly and read and write. My days are packed with meetings and phone calls. And while I no longer hold public office as an elected official, there is clearly much more media scrutiny and public interest in what I do and say as a staffer.

For those of you unfamiliar with what I do, let me say that some people believe mine is the best legal job in America. My responsibilities include a challenging combination of politics, policy and law.

Imagine yourself walking into the Oval Office to brief your client-the most powerful person in the world-about the first federal execution in 40 years, or about federal funding for stem cell research or the necessary legal justification for a covert military action. My team of

12 lawyers provide legal advice to the President and the White House staff in nine general categories.

First, my office vets the personal background of every Bush appointee. After reviewing the FBI background report on an individual, it is my office that determines whether that person is suitable to work in the Bush Administration. As you can imagine there is a natural tension here between our office and our Cabinet Secretaries who want their people in place as soon as possible. Because we have to respect the privacy of the individuals being considered for appointment, we cannot reveal matters contained within an FBI report except to certain members of the Senate Committee overseeing their confirmation. So it a true test of our diplomatic skills trying to tell the Cabinet Secretary they cannot have that superstar they desperately need because of a background problem that occurred 15 years ago.

Second, as the Administration's Ethics Officer I am responsible for ensuring that members of the White House Staff comply with ethics laws and regulations. This is an area that historically has generated a great deal of publicity, and is the popular weapon of choice of opponents of recent administrations to cause embarrassment to a sitting President. Because even the appearance of impropriety can generate a news story or worse, a congressional investigation, we try to be diligent in reminding our folks that we truly live and work in a fish bowl that some would love to drop and shatter.

Third, we advise the President regarding the exercise of executive privilege. During every administration there is tension between the need of Congress to review executive branch decision-making as part of its oversight role and the need of the executive branch to keep confidential certain types of communication in order to encourage candid and open discussions and advice. At its core, this debate raises the constitutional doctrine of separation of powers. The President is charged with heading the executive branch agencies. At what point does Congress' oversight role become one of supervision and direction of the agencies? Presently, there are several Congressional inquiries of executive branch decision making - thus subjecting the Administration to charges of secrecy and stone-walling, and threats of congressional subpoenas and contempts of Congress. My job is to resolve the dispute. Often, the executive and legislative branches are able to reach an accommodation where some of the information may be released in a form acceptable to the executive branch.

Fourth, my office reviews and provides input on all major legislation. We draft and revise legislation and we advise when there are constitutional issues, such as in the Education Bill or the Faith-Based Bill.

REV_00208323

Fifth, we monitor important litigation at the Department of Justice. Litigation over certain issues such as raced-based admissions, minority contracting with governments, and school vouchers all have significant policy implications. Thus, the Counsel's Office and the White House Policy Office work closely with the Office of Legal Policy at Justice to develop the Administration's policy that may be the subject of litigation. As a rule, we do not direct prosecutorial decisions, and we often defer to Justice regarding litigation strategy and tactics.

Sixth, our office has a secondary role in the development of Administration policy independent of litigation. Obviously everything we do has policy implications, but I do not view it as a priority of my office to formulate policy. The President has a team of policy advisors to do this - our primary role is to serve as his lawyers, but when requested we do provide policy input, in areas uniquely legal such as tort reform, federalism and capital punishment reform.

Seventh, my office makes recommendations to the President regarding all clemency requests. As I said before, earlier this year, the federal government had its first execution in forty years. Our office was on the phone with the Department of Justice during those executions. Our office also advises the President with respect to recommendations from the Department of

Justice on requests for Presidential pardons and commutations of sentence.

Eighth, our office provides legal advice on all national security matters. People tend to forget that there are many legal issues relating to foreign policy decisions made by the President. While we sometimes rely on the advice of lawyers at the State Department and the Department of Defense, one of the lawyers on my staff is a national security legal expert who does nothing but provide legal advice to Dr. Condi Rice and the National Security team. I participate in regular national security meetings with Dr. Rice, Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld, Secretary of State Powell and others to discuss such issues as what is the appropriate military or diplomatic response to some crisis on the other side of the world, or what is the appropriately legal level of military force to respond to aggression, or what authority or responsibilities does the President have under a certain treaty.

Finally, as you may have read, my office has primary responsibility within the Bush Administration for the nomination of federal judges; and we work closely with the Department of Justice in making recommendations of U.S. Attorneys and U.S. Marshals to the President. Presently there are 108 vacancies on the federal bench. Some, for example along the border in Texas and Mexico, constitute a judicial emergency. During the Presidential transition, the President told me that filling judicial vacancies was a priority. So we quickly assembled a judicial selection team consisting of senior people from the White House and the Department of Justice, including Attorney General Ashcroft. The committee has been interviewing candidates for several months.

REV_00208328

Let me give you some comparisons to where we are on judicial nominations.

180 Days into the Presidency: Timing and Number of Judicial Nominations (July 18, 2001)

First,

Timing

- The President made his initial 11 circuit court nominations on May 9, 2001
  - President Reagan's initial nominations did not occur until July 9, 1981.
  - President George H.W. Bush's initial nominations did not occur until August 4, 1989.
  - President Clinton's initial nominations did not occur until August 6, 1993.

Second,

Number of Nominations Before August Recess

- The President has already made 29 circuit and district court nominations, and the Administration anticipates that the President will make 46 as of Thursday, August 2.
  - President Reagan made 13 circuit and district nominations before the recess.
  - President George H.W. Bush's made 8 circuit and district nominations before the recess.
  - President Clinton made 13 circuit and district nominations before the recess.

Third,

Number of Nominations During First Year

- The Administration anticipates that the President will make over 100 circuit and district court nominations during his first year in office.

REV_00208329

- President Reagan made a total of 44 circuit and district court nominations during his first year in office.

- President George H.W. Bush's made a total of 23 circuit and district court nominations during his first year in office.

President Clinton made a total of 47 circuit and district court nominations during his first year in office.

REV_00208330

Some have questioned whether this Administration is rushing to fill vacancies-implying that we are not being careful. Let me reassure you that we have been able to move relatively quickly because we have been focused and diligent in this effort-without compromising in any way the quality of judges that the American people deserve.

I think if you study carefully the qualification and backgrounds of the people nominated, you will agree that the President has nominated, and he will continue to nominate, people of integrity and character, men and women with strong academic backgrounds who have a history of professional excellence.

Earlier this year the Administration made news when the President decided to end the American Bar Association's preferential role in rating judicial candidates prior to nomination. Some Senators said this was an effort to dilute the quality of judges, and pack the federal judiciary with right wing ideologues. Nothing could be further from the truth. The President believes as a matter of principle that it is unfair to give the ABA a special quasi-official role in the nomination process over and above any other outside group in America. We did not intend by that decision to cut out the ABA entirely from the judicial selection process. On the contrary we knew that certain Democratic senators would insist upon having the ABA ratings before scheduling a committee hearing, so I worked with the ABA president, Martha Barnett, to ensure a smooth transition for a post-nomination role for the ABA. The truth is, we welcome a thoughtful, unbiased and fair evaluation of our nominees by outside groups. I know that The White House, and the Department of Justice and the FBI are not infallible. We may miss something in a candidate's background during our due diligence. If the Senate Judiciary Committee or an outside group, such as the ABA, discovers a problem with a nominee, we want to know about it. After all these are lifetime appointments, and the American people cannot afford mistakes. So while it might be viewed as embarrassing to the President if he has to pull down a nomination, our objective is to give the American people the best judges we can find. If a legitimate problem is discovered, we will not hesitate to withdraw a nomination in order to maintain the integrity of our federal judiciary. Oh, and by the way, the ABA has returned ratings on behalf of the President's 29 nominations. All have been rated well-qualified or qualified, thus hopefully reassuring the American people of our commitment to excellence.

I have often said that a judicial nomination is one of the most important decisions that a President can make. Many of a President's policies and programs can be reversed by the next Congress or President, but a judicial appointment lasts a lifetime. There is nothing scientific in the way our committee recommends a person to the President for an appointment. It is often a decision based on imperfect information - a guess as to how an individual is going to resolve an issue, how they will approach the next case and cases-next year-five years-twenty years from now. We have to anticipate how the legal writing and analysis of men and women will change over the course of their professional career.

And we have to do all of this in a very political environment. There is much debate now regarding the appropriate role of ideology in the appointment and confirmation of federal judges. Certain Senators believe that ideology must surely be a factor in the President's decision to nominate a candidate. Thus the Senators believe they are justified in considering ideology during the confirmation process. In doing so, the judicial selection process is needlessly politicized in my opinion. We do not apply a litmus test - we do not ask questions about such controversial issues as abortion or affirmative action. You need to be a card-carrying member of some right wing organization to receive a Bush appointment - you simply must be willing to exercise judicial restraint in applying the law given to us by Congress, subject only to the Constitution. We don't want to know how a candidate feels personally about an issue like race-based admissions or vouchers-their personal or political beliefs are irrelevant. We think it more important to probe into a candidate's thinking about how they are going to approach a legal question, what is the process used to reach a decision, what tools will they use in statutory construction, what are their thoughts about stare decises, should a judge apply the plain meaning of a statute if it produces in their mind an unfair or immoral result, when should a judge ignore the plain meaning of a statute if it is inconsistent with precedent, is it ever appropriate for an appellate court to use dictum to provide guidance for future disputes with slightly different facts or should courts limit themselves to the facts before them?

REV_00208337

Theare are a few of the issues we weigh and debate when choosing federal judges. Many of you in this room have wrestled with these questions. That's why you are the Chiefs.

After a judge is nominated, we turn the confirmation responsibilities to Viet Dinh at Justice, whom I understand was on ???? yesterday but he had to cancel. Viet and his team are responsible for coordinating confirmation strategies. I think I can safely say that given the current composition of the Senate and a lot of lingering bitterness over the way some of the Clinton nominees were treated, this Administration will have to exercise great patience and diplomacy to get our nominees confirmed. The consultation with Senators about our nominees is one of the most interesting parts of this job. Each Senator has his or ideas about judges, and part of my job is to try to get their approval of our judges, but satisfying concerns they may have. Before I close, let me add a post script about the State Justice Institute, who I believe you heard from this morning. As you know, this Institute was established by Congress to improve the administration of justice in State Courts, in part by authorizing funds for education and support. The Institute is supervised by an 11 member Board of Directors appointed by the President. I have been told that all of the current directors are serving in a holdover capacity, thus the President is free to make 11 new nominations to the Board.

It is my understanding that the President will be making some decisions on these appointments shortly.

I close by repeating that this may be one of the best legal jobs in America. While there is always a lot going on, my days at the White House are not without special, fun moments. Occasionally, late in the afternoons, the President will gather a few close advisers for a game of horseshoes. And I was part of the President's foursome during his first golf outing several weeks ago. You want to talk about media scrutiny-try teeing off on the first hole-with very limited warmup-surrounded by media cameras-ready to record a slice onto the nearest fairway, or a topped drive short of the ladies tees, or a pull hook into the trees. Regrettably, I experienced all three during my round. Of course, that's a small price to pay in exchange for treats like a weekend at Camp David or a ride aboard Air Force One-shoot, it's incredible just riding in the Presidential motorcade with the President. Clearly, this job is the hardest thing I have ever done-so much rides on the advice I give to the President. The relentless pressure is reflected in the average tenure of an Assistant to the President: 18 months. President Clinton had seven different Counsels during his two terms. So odds are, I will not be in this position this time next year. But that's OK.

I am grateful for this time. Everytime I receive a visitor-awestruck from walking into the West Wing-or whenever I watch my two young sons play with the President's dogs on the South Lawn, I am reminded of the special privilege of serving in the White House.

It's temporary, I know, the institution of the Presidency did just fine before I arrived, and it will survive long after my tenure as Counsel. But while I'm at the White House, I pledge to you my best effort to serve you and to serve this President. As this group knows better than anyone, that is what public service is all about.

Thank you.

We understand and acknowledge I close by reminding the lawyers ...

that we are members of a profession that imposes a duty upon us on behalf of the citizens of our respective states. When the Europeans first colonized America, some areas attempted to ban altogether the legal profession. But those efforts obviously failed. What our ancestors quickly learned is that lawyers are necessary in our society. Wherever there is civilization, particularly civilization where rights are respected and responsibilities expected, there will be a need for lawyers. We take an oath to serve and are trained to protect the property rights and liberty interests of others in our hearts we carry the hopes of those Americans who seek vindication of their rights…in our minds we hold the dreams of a better tomorrow with equal opportunities…and in our words, we manifest the spirit and righteous indignation of aggrieved Americans who demand justice. What a wonderful privilege we have been given.

But with this privilege comes responsibility. And aside from zealously protecting the interests of our clients, every lawyer is responsible for seeing that there is equal access to justice for all Americans…and I don't mean just the poor – many middle class families cannot afford good legal representation. Under our legal system, the average citizen has more protection against official oppression and private exploitation than anywhere else in the world. But of what use are theoretical rights if the cost to assert them is prohibitive, or the delay in vindicating them is interminable? It is not right that someone who is injured or discriminated against is unable to protect their rights and just because they cannot afford to hire a lawyer.

Good afternoon. I want to thank the American Bar Association for having me and for being willing to be flexible in its schedule in order to accommodate my schedule. The President nominated some new judges today and he said I had to be there…I will talk just a bit about judges in a minute.

REV_00208346

My days begin on the wooded George Washington parkway from Virginia into the District of Columbia. Because my family is still in Austin, I always leave for the West Wing before dawn, and as I cross the Roosevelt Bridge, one of the many D.C. bridges spanning the Potomac River, our nations capitol and the Washington Monument stand on the horizon often luminated by the moonlight. That picture is a daily reminder of the unique opportunity I have been given by this President.

REV_00208347

Growing up in Houston, I of course read a lot about the history of this beautiful city and like most of you I can chronicle my life with White House events that I have watched unfold on television. But there's nothing quite like being there. For those of you who have had the privilege of working at the White House - you know the feeling. It is one thing to tour the White House on a Sunday afternoon but it is altogether different to walk into the Oval Office to brief the most powerful person in the world.

REV_00208348

Some people say I have the best legal job in the United States. I can't imagine working for a better client, nor having a better team of lawyers nor working on issues more important to the people of this country. The responsibilities of the Counsel include a wonderful mixture of policy, law and politics that are challenging and personally satisfying. Unlike my experience as a Judge, when my days were filled with quiet meditation, in the White House I sometimes have little time to even think as I move from one meeting to another.

REV_00208349

Of the many tasks that occupy my time, let me spend a moment talking about my role in helping the President in nominating federal judges. Like you, I wished that more voters realized the importance of the quality of people who serve in our judiciary. It really is important who sits on the bench. It really is important how a judge reaches a decision. It really is important that judges be courageous enough to do the right thing, motivated solely by the law, undeterred by criticism.

REV_00208350

Many of a President's policies and programs, no matter how popular or worthy, can be undone by the next President or the next Congress. But a federal appointment lasts a lifetime. This is why I believe there may be no other decision more important for a President than the decision to put a woman or man on the federal bench.

REV_00208351

During the campaign the President spoke of his support of judges who practice judicial restraint, judges who respect precedent, judges who are able to put aside their own personal policy preferences to apply the law as intended by Congress; judges who understand that they have a limited role within our system of government.

REV_00208352

As you may have read, filling existing judicial vacancies is a priority for the President. General Ashcroft and I have been meeting weekly to discuss candidates. I look for lawyers that share the President's philosophy of judicial restraint. I am not looking for conservative ideologues. There is no place in our federal judiciary for those who would deliberately promote a policy agenda – either conservative or liberal.

REV_00208353

As far as I am concerned, those who have strongly held views about policy choices should run for the Congress – or work in the White House or work as a member of an interest group. These are the proper venues for the formulation of laws, for developing policy – for debating the pros and cons of an idea.

REV_00208354

So where does a compassionate conservative look for his judicial nominees? The men and women that we are interviewing have a diversity of backgrounds and experiences. They are diverse in their gender and ethnicity – which I might add is important to the President because it is important to the majority of the American people.

REV_00208355

There are no litmus tests, no requirement that you be a card carrying member of a particular organization - only that you be a person of character, that you have the abilities to do the job and that you possess a basic understanding of the limited role of the judiciary in our system of government.

REV_00208356

As of today there are approximately 101 current vacancies and 11 known future vacancies out of 830 federal judgeships. Thus approximately 12% of the federal judgeships are vacant.

On the circuits, there are 31current and 3 known future circuit vacancies out of 179 circuit seats. That means approximately 19% of the circuit judgeships in the nation are vacant.

REV_00208357

Congress created these benches that are now vacant…and Congress passed a law that provides the President shall fill by appointment vacancies in the federal judiciary. Thus the President intends to fill all of the vacancies. Obviously, the President will prioritize, focusing on nominating judges to benches that have been vacant for an intolerable period of time – focusing on those areas where the courts are drowning under the weight of the case load.

REV_00208358

This afternoon, the President took the first step. As I'm sure most of you have read the President today nominated 11 men and women to the Circuit courts. There is a lot of speculation regarding the difficulty the Administration will have in getting the judges confirmed. I am optimistic now that the Whit House has done its job with respect to these 11, the Senate will do its job and provide a hearing and a vote.

REV_00208359

Although these men and women have been nominated, the vetting process is not complete.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "It certainly has been a victory so far to vanquish the Taliban. It has been a victory for all those who want to see a more Democratic government put in place in Afghanistan. It has been a victory for those who want to see better rights for women in Afghanistan. It has been a victory for those who want to see education for both girls and boys inside Afghanistan." (CNN's Nic Robertson; "Larry King Live," 12/10/01)
- "A U.S. Air Force cargo jet filled with parcels of winter clothes, toys and candy landed in Turkmenistan on Monday, the first shipment of aid purchased by American children for boys and girls in Afghanistan." (AP, 12/10/01)
- "Ten thousand [America's Fund for Afghan Children] gift parcels were purchased with $1.5 million donated by American children after President Bush appealed to the country's youth to give what they could. The packages are made up of practical supplies like winter tents, woolen caps, and jackets, food, toothbrushes and soap, and also crayons, lollipops and teddy bears." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

- Today the First Lady will join President Bush at an event where the President will sign legislation to help provide health and educational assistance to the women and children of Afghanistan.
- The Taliban regime is on the run and the women of Afghanistan are rejoicing. Afghan women know, through hard experience, what the rest of the world is discovering: The brutal oppression of women is a central goal of the terrorists.
- The Taliban regime has especially targeted Afghan women and children, taking away their basic freedoms, splintering their families, putting their lives at risk, and relegating them to poverty.
- Islam has a tradition of protecting the rights of women and children, and supporting the family. The Taliban regime has cruelly reduced women and girls to poverty, poor health, and illiteracy – unlike the treatment of women in the Muslim world or following the tenets of Islam. Muslims around the world have condemned the brutal degradation of women and children by the Taliban regime.

In Case You Missed It

- "The U.S. flag was hoisted above the Marines Corps [sic] base on Thursday [11/29] by a lance corporal born in Kabul who fled the country in the 1980s after the Soviet invasion. 'I'm coming back home,' said Ajmal Achekzai." Reuters, 11/29/01)

Facts of the Day

- USAID is preparing to ship 10,000 kitchen sets and 20,000 blankets this week from warehouses in Italy to Afghanistan.
- On the first day the Friendship Bridge over the Amu Draya river was open -- December 9 -- 14 railcars with approximately 600 tons of humanitarian supplies crossed from Uzbekistan to Afghanistan. This marked the opening of a major corridor for aid to needy Afghans.
- For additional information about humanitarian relief efforts in Afghanistan and Central Asia, visit USAID's website: www.usaid.gov/hum_response/ofda/situation.html

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "It certainly has been a victory so far to vanquish the Taliban. It has been a victory for all those who want to see a more Democratic government put in place in Afghanistan. It has been a victory for those who want to see better rights for women in Afghanistan. It has been a victory for those who want to see education for both girls and boys inside Afghanistan." (CNN's Nic Robertson; "Larry King Live," 12/10/01)
- "A U.S. Air Force cargo jet filled with parcels of winter clothes, toys and candy landed in Turkmenistan on Monday, the first shipment of aid purchased by American children for boys and girls in Afghanistan." (AP, 12/10/01)
- "Ten thousand [America's Fund for Afghan Children] gift parcels were purchased with $1.5 million donated by American children after President Bush appealed to the country's youth to give what they could. The packages are made up of practical supplies like winter tents, woolen caps, and jackets, food, toothbrushes and soap, and also crayons, lollipops and teddy bears." (AP, 12/10/01)

Message

- Today the First Lady will join President Bush at an event where the President will sign legislation to help provide health and educational assistance to the women and children of Afghanistan.
- The Taliban regime is on the run and the women of Afghanistan are rejoicing. Afghan women know, through hard experience, what the rest of the world is discovering: The brutal oppression of women is a central goal of the terrorists.
- The Taliban regime has especially targeted Afghan women and children, taking away their basic freedoms, splintering their families, putting their lives at risk, and relegating them to poverty.
- Islam has a tradition of protecting the rights of women and children, and supporting the family. The Taliban regime has cruelly reduced women and girls to poverty, poor health, and illiteracy – unlike the treatment of women in the Muslim world or following the tenets of Islam. Muslims around the world have condemned the brutal degradation of women and children by the Taliban regime.

In Case You Missed It

- "The U.S. flag was hoisted above the Marines Corps [sic] base on Thursday [11/29] by a lance corporal born in Kabul who fled the country in the 1980s after the Soviet invasion. 'I'm coming back home,' said Ajmal Achekzai." Reuters, 11/29/01)

Facts of the Day

- USAID is preparing to ship 10,000 kitchen sets and 20,000 blankets this week from warehouses in Italy to Afghanistan.
- On the first day the Friendship Bridge over the Amu Draya river was open -- December 9 -- 14 railcars with approximately 600 tons of humanitarian supplies crossed from Uzbekistan to Afghanistan. This marked the opening of a major corridor for aid to needy Afghans.
- For additional information about humanitarian relief efforts in Afghanistan and Central Asia, visit USAID's website: www.usaid.gov/hum_response/ofda/situation.html

Dr. Doris Lee McCoy of CA called the main OPA line today to see who she should talk to about getting permission to use part of the President's speech from Atlanta in her new book, America's New Vision: Our leaders point the way. This is her third book. Her second book was "Mega Traits: 12 Traits of Successful People". She said that she interviewed George and Barbara Bush for this upcoming book. She also said that she talked with POTUS 43 about a year and a half ago and asked him a question. Her number is PRA 6

On December 13, the Senate Judiciary Committee approved the nomination of Callie V. Granade, to be a United States District Judge for the Southern District of Alabama, by a roll call vote of 19-0 . The Committee then approved the following judicial nominees en bloc by a vote of 19-0: Marcia S. Krieger, to be a United States District Judge for the District of Colorado; James C. Mahan, to be a United States District Judge for the District of Nevada; Philip R. Martinez, to be a United States District Judge for the Western District of Texas; and C. Ashley Royal, to be a United States District Judge for the Middle District of Georgia. Additionally, the Committee approved the following U.S. Attorney nominees by unanimous consent: Michael Battle, Western District of New York; Christopher J. Christie, New Jersey; Harry E. Cummins III, Eastern District of Arkansas; and David P. York, Southern District of Alabama. The nomination of Mauricio J. Tamargo, to be Chairman of the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission, was also approved by unanimous consent. Finally, the Committee approved the nomination of Dwight MacKay, to be the United States Marshal for the District of Montana, with the caveat that the nomination would not be moved on the Senate floor until the file had been reviewed.

Subject: House Joint Resolution on Iraq

Is either of you aware of a House Joint Resolution on Iraq? This was introduced last week by Congressmen Hyde and Graham and we were told that the WH Counsel's Office (??) had been consulted about it. The version we've seen has a number of problems with it and we're concerned about having the President sign it if it remains a joint resolution. We need to make some changes or change to a concurrent resolution.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- On Wednesday, President Bush signed the Afghan Women and Children Relief Act, which committed the United States to providing education and medical assistance to Afghan women and children, and to Afghan refugees in surrounding countries.
- "The Marines have landed. There is activity at the U.S. Embassy here [in Kabul] for the first time in a dozen years. The U.N. envoy for Afghanistan has deemed preparations for a Dec. 22 hand-over of governing power on track. Even the national currency, the afghani, which a day earlier sold for 36,500 to the dollar, took an 8% leap of faith Tuesday that this war-ravaged country is on the cusp of peace and recovery." (L.A. Times, 12/12/01)
- Attorney General Ashcroft announced on Wednesday that a grand jury in the Eastern District of Virginia had charged Zacarias Moussaoui, a native of France of Moroccan ancestry, with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania on Sept. 11th.

Message

- Osama bin Laden is a coward who sends people to their deaths without their knowledge and laughs about it.
- Osama bin Laden murders innocents including women and children and Muslims.
- Osama bin Laden is disloyal to his followers and relies on others to fight for him.
- Osama bin Laden defames the religion he purports to follow.
- It is no wonder that thousands of bin Laden and al Qaeda operatives are breaking ranks and deserting. And it's no wonder that Muslim experts around the world continue to condemn al Qaeda's attempt to hijack the peaceful religion of Islam for their terrorist purposes.

In Case You Missed It

- "More than 100 World Health Organization workers are completing an eight-day measles vaccination drive aimed at vaccinating 70,000 children in Afghanistan's Panjshir Valley, the WHO said yesterday at a briefing in Kabul. An estimated 30,000 children die annually from measles in the country." (UN Wire, 12/12/01)

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. announced Wednesday that, "[I]n an effort to inform Afghans about relief activities, the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) is set to launch its Humanitarian Emergency Afghan Radio (HEAR) project through international and local radio networks in two weeks time." The program is funded by USAID.
- On December 7, USAID funded a $2,525,000 grant to the International Center for Agricultural Research in Dry Areas. The funding will support seed multiplication for the spring planting season and will provide technical assistance to Afghan partners enabling them to establish an effective regulatory system and standards for seed procurement.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- On Wednesday, President Bush signed the Afghan Women and Children Relief Act, which committed the United States to providing education and medical assistance to Afghan women and children, and to Afghan refugees in surrounding countries.
- "The Marines have landed. There is activity at the U.S. Embassy here [in Kabul] for the first time in a dozen years. The U.N. envoy for Afghanistan has deemed preparations for a Dec. 22 hand-over of governing power on track. Even the national currency, the afghani, which a day earlier sold for 36,500 to the dollar, took an 8% leap of faith Tuesday that this war-ravaged country is on the cusp of peace and recovery." (L.A. Times, 12/12/01)
- Attorney General Ashcroft announced on Wednesday that a grand jury in the Eastern District of Virginia had charged Zacarias Moussaoui, a native of France of Moroccan ancestry, with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania on Sept. 11th.

Message

- Osama bin Laden is a coward who sends people to their deaths without their knowledge and laughs about it.
- Osama bin Laden murders innocents including women and children and Muslims.
- Osama bin Laden is disloyal to his followers and relies on others to fight for him.
- Osama bin Laden defames the religion he purports to follow.
- It is no wonder that thousands of bin Laden and al Qaeda operatives are breaking ranks and deserting. And it's no wonder that Muslim experts around the world continue to condemn al Qaeda's attempt to hijack the peaceful religion of Islam for their terrorist purposes.

In Case You Missed It

- "More than 100 World Health Organization workers are completing an eight-day measles vaccination drive aimed at vaccinating 70,000 children in Afghanistan's Panjshir Valley, the WHO said yesterday at a briefing in Kabul. An estimated 30,000 children die annually from measles in the country." (UN Wire, 12/12/01)

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. announced Wednesday that, "[I]n an effort to inform Afghans about relief activities, the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) is set to launch its Humanitarian Emergency Afghan Radio (HEAR) project through international and local radio networks in two weeks time." The program is funded by USAID.
- On December 7, USAID funded a $2,525,000 grant to the International Center for Agricultural Research in Dry Areas. The funding will support seed multiplication for the spring planting season and will provide technical assistance to Afghan partners enabling them to establish an effective regulatory system and standards for seed procurement.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- On Wednesday, President Bush signed the Afghan Women and Children Relief Act, which committed the United States to providing education and medical assistance to Afghan women and children, and to Afghan refugees in surrounding countries.
- "The Marines have landed. There is activity at the U.S. Embassy here [in Kabul] for the first time in a dozen years. The U.N. envoy for Afghanistan has deemed preparations for a Dec. 22 hand-over of governing power on track. Even the national currency, the afghani, which a day earlier sold for 36,500 to the dollar, took an 8% leap of faith Tuesday that this war-ravaged country is on the cusp of peace and recovery." (L.A. Times, 12/12/01)
- Attorney General Ashcroft announced on Wednesday that a grand jury in the Eastern District of Virginia had charged Zacarias Moussaoui, a native of France of Moroccan ancestry, with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania on Sept. 11th.

Message

- Osama bin Laden is a coward who sends people to their deaths without their knowledge and laughs about it.
- Osama bin Laden murders innocents including women and children and Muslims.
- Osama bin Laden is disloyal to his followers and relies on others to fight for him.
- Osama bin Laden defames the religion he purports to follow.
- It is no wonder that thousands of bin Laden and al Qaeda operatives are breaking ranks and deserting. And it's no wonder that Muslim experts around the world continue to condemn al Qaeda's attempt to hijack the peaceful religion of Islam for their terrorist purposes.

In Case You Missed It

- "More than 100 World Health Organization workers are completing an eight-day measles vaccination drive aimed at vaccinating 70,000 children in Afghanistan's Panjshir Valley, the WHO said yesterday at a briefing in Kabul. An estimated 30,000 children die annually from measles in the country." (UN Wire, 12/12/01)

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. announced Wednesday that, "[I]n an effort to inform Afghans about relief activities, the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) is set to launch its Humanitarian Emergency Afghan Radio (HEAR) project through international and local radio networks in two weeks time." The program is funded by USAID.
- On December 7, USAID funded a $2,525,000 grant to the International Center for Agricultural Research in Dry Areas. The funding will support seed multiplication for the spring planting season and will provide technical assistance to Afghan partners enabling them to establish an effective regulatory system and standards for seed procurement.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- On Wednesday, President Bush signed the Afghan Women and Children Relief Act, which committed the United States to providing education and medical assistance to Afghan women and children, and to Afghan refugees in surrounding countries.
- "The Marines have landed. There is activity at the U.S. Embassy here [in Kabul] for the first time in a dozen years. The U.N. envoy for Afghanistan has deemed preparations for a Dec. 22 hand-over of governing power on track. Even the national currency, the afghani, which a day earlier sold for 36,500 to the dollar, took an 8% leap of faith Tuesday that this war-ravaged country is on the cusp of peace and recovery." (L.A. Times, 12/12/01)
- Attorney General Ashcroft announced on Wednesday that a grand jury in the Eastern District of Virginia had charged Zacarias Moussaoui, a native of France of Moroccan ancestry, with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania on Sept. 11th.

Message

- Osama bin Laden is a coward who sends people to their deaths without their knowledge and laughs about it.
- Osama bin Laden murders innocents including women and children and Muslims.
- Osama bin Laden is disloyal to his followers and relies on others to fight for him.
- Osama bin Laden defames the religion he purports to follow.
- It is no wonder that thousands of bin Laden and al Qaeda operatives are breaking ranks and deserting. And it's no wonder that Muslim experts around the world continue to condemn al Qaeda's attempt to hijack the peaceful religion of Islam for their terrorist purposes.

In Case You Missed It

- "More than 100 World Health Organization workers are completing an eight-day measles vaccination drive aimed at vaccinating 70,000 children in Afghanistan's Panjshir Valley, the WHO said yesterday at a briefing in Kabul. An estimated 30,000 children die annually from measles in the country." (UN Wire, 12/12/01)

Facts of the Day

- The U.N. announced Wednesday that, "[I]n an effort to inform Afghans about relief activities, the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) is set to launch its Humanitarian Emergency Afghan Radio (HEAR) project through international and local radio networks in two weeks time." The program is funded by USAID.
- On December 7, USAID funded a $2,525,000 grant to the International Center for Agricultural Research in Dry Areas. The funding will support seed multiplication for the spring planting season and will provide technical assistance to Afghan partners enabling them to establish an effective regulatory system and standards for seed procurement.

Legislative Alert

* * * Urgent Action Item * * *

Senate negotiators continue to work on the final details of a terrorism insurance bill. They are very close to a deal, and Senate floor action could occur THIS WEEK. At this point, it is critical to contact key Senators involved in the negotiations and impress upon them the urgent need for legislation to create a federal backstop to ensure that companies can get and/or renew workers compensation and property and casualty insurance policies so they can continue doing business.

Listed on the back of this page are the names of the key Senate members who need to be contacted. Time is of the essence and we need your help! Please call them ASAP and tell them:

- Urgency. Since 70 percent of reinsurance treaties are renewable on a calendar-year basis, these policies will need to be renewed by January 1, 2002. Reinsurers provide coverage for front-line insurance carriers and are no longer offering coverage for terrorism losses. A federal backstop would allow reinsurers to come back into the market with more assurance that this coverage would not bankrupt them. It would also allow businesses to retain affordable insurance against risk of terrorism losses.

- Workers Compensation. In 35 states, companies can self-insure for workers compensation claims. However, even self-insured companies need to reinsure. Reinsurance for workers compensation claims related to terrorism losses is virtually unavailable, and what is available is generally unaffordable.

- Transportation. The trucking and railroad industries are having difficulty finding any insurance at all, regardless of cost. These companies cannot operate without insurance. Manufacturers rely on common carriers to deliver components for just-in-time manufacturing and to deliver finished product to market. Without needed transportation, these companies will be effectively out of business.

- Liability. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance claims places a potential burden on American taxpayers. Therefore, we also support reasonable limits on the liability of non-terrorists for damages caused by an act of terrorism, so long as all businesses are treated equally. Those who are truly injured or damaged by an act of terrorism should receive fair and fast compensation—but not a windfall, especially at a cost to the U.S. government.

Senate leaders and the Administration have largely agreed on a workable solution to avoid the dire economic consequences of the lack of terrorism insurance. This solution would ensure that terrorism insurance is available and affordable, but only if it is considered on the Senate floor right away! The short-term program provides economic stability without costing taxpayers a dime unless there is another major terrorist act in the near future. Without this temporary program, insurers are unable to price and therefore cannot offer terrorism coverage. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance is not an insurance industry bailout or merely an "insurance" issue. It is an economic issue. Given the current economic recession, it is especially important to ensure that the economy has the means it needs to recover. The American economy will suffer if Congress fails to act.

Lee is retiring after 28 years of Federal Government service, 15 years with the National Archives and the last 13 years here at the White House as Deputy Director of the Office of Records Management.

We are holding the on-site festivities in Room 75 from approximately 2:30 to 4:30.

There will be some letters read, some brief speeches, some light refreshments, and some handshakes and hugs.

Come by and say Good bye.

From: CN=Terry W. Good/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]

Lee is retiring after 28 years of Federal Government service, 15 years with the National Archives and the last 13 years here at the White House as Deputy Director of the Office of Records Management.

We are holding the on-site festivities in Room 75 from approximately 2:30 to 4:30.

There will be some letters read, some brief speeches, some light refreshments, and some handshakes and hugs.

Come by and say Good bye.

From: CN=Terry W. Good/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]

His retirement party is tomorrow, Friday

Lee is retiring after 28 years of Federal Government service, 15 years with the National Archives and the last 13 years here at the White House as Deputy Director of the Office of Records Management.

We are holding the on-site festivities in Room 75 from approximately 2:30 to 4:30.

There will be some letters read, some brief speeches, some light refreshments, and some handshakes and hugs.

Come by and say Good bye.

From: CN=Terry W. Good/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]

His retirement party is tomorrow, Friday

Lee is retiring after 28 years of Federal Government service, 15 years with the National Archives and the last 13 years here at the White House as Deputy Director of the Office of Records Management.

We are holding the on-site festivities in Room 75 from approximately 2:30 to 4:30.

There will be some letters read, some brief speeches, some light refreshments, and some handshakes and hugs.

Come by and say Good bye.

amongst others . . . thought you might be interested

At the East Room event on May 9, President Bush stated, &I now submit these nominations in good faith, trusting that good faith will be returned in kind by the United States Senate.8 Seven months later, it is time to ask whether the President,s trust has been returned: Has the Senate acted in good faith with respect to those 11 nominees? The numbers speak for themselves. The answer is clear, and the answer is no.

I have heard the argument that the Senate,s stalling tactics are appropriate payback for what happened during the previous President,s Administration. Even accepting the legitimacy of payback, what about the fact that so many of President George H.W. Bush,s nominees were held up in 1992? So which party is really to blame for firing the first shot?

No answer to that question will satisfy all. And that proves the wisdom of what President Bush stated back on May 9. It is time for the cycle of recrimination and finger-pointing over judicial nominations to end. It is time to settle on a judicial confirmation process that will stand the test of time. So let me again quote what the President said that day because his words are even more powerful today: &I urge senators of both parties to rise above the bitterness of the past) to provide a fair hearing and a prompt vote to every nominee, no matter who lives in this house, no matter who controls the Senate.8 The President asked for a fair process, for a prompt hearing and vote on every nominee. That is the Senate,s constitutional duty, and I think it is past time for the Senate to perform its duty, particularly as to the President,s original 11 nominees.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF
REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUSTS®

December 11, 2001

The Honorable Don Nickles
United States Senate
133 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Nickles:

The National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts (NAREIT), representing REITs and publicly traded real estate companies, urges you to quickly enact legislation to ensure that affordable insurance coverage is available to businesses to cover future financial losses related to terrorist attacks. It is critical that this legislation be passed prior to the conclusion of this Congressional session.

It is estimated that over 70 percent of businesses and owners of commercial and residential properties renew their insurance coverage on January 1 each year. Many of these owners have been advised that their policies will not be renewed or that their new policies will exclude risks associated with terrorist acts. Unless Congress acts now to ensure the availability of affordable terrorism coverage in the marketplace, the real estate industry's ability to finance, construct, sell or buy properties across the country will be at risk and significant economic dislocation will likely occur.

The House of Representatives has taken an important step toward crafting a workable solution to this problem through the passage of H.R. 3210, the Terrorism Risk Protection Act. It is crucial that the Senate act quickly to pass similar legislation. Ultimately, NAREIT supports a compromise package that creates a workable temporary federal program that ensures the availability of affordable terrorism insurance coverage for businesses. Also included should be reasonable liability reform provisions designed to benefit the victims of a terrorist attack so that all affected parties will receive appropriate damages.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this important legislation.

Sincerely,

Steven A. Wechsler
President and CEO

The Real Estate Roundtable

RE: Terrorism Risk Protection Legislation

To Members of the U.S. Senate:

As bi-partisan negotiations with the Bush Administration continue over features of a Senate version of the House-passed Terrorism Risk Protection Act, I am writing to urge you to expedite introduction and enactment of legislation to create a workable solution in the marketplace for the renewed availability of terrorism insurance coverage.

The events of September 11th dislocated reinsurance markets and eliminated the availability of primary terrorist insurance coverage at virtually any price. As a result, the real estate and construction industries, which account for over a quarter of the nation's gross domestic product, could face severe economic dislocation in the coming months if the Federal government does not immediately address insurance-related issues tied to terrorism.

Without Federal action, the ability to finance, construct, buy or sell commercial properties across the nation will be at risk – affecting not only real estate owners and lenders but the tenants who lease facilities, their employees and customers, as well as anyone who rents an apartment. While many commercial property owners are already affected, a significant percentage of properties, including apartments, shopping centers, offices and hotels are scheduled to renew their insurance coverage on January 1st. Many of these owners have already been advised that their policies will not be renewed or that their new policies will exclude exposures currently insured including terrorism.

As the current policies expire, there is tremendous uncertainty about the status of real estate debt, with some $700 billion in commercial bank debt, $350 billion of commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS) loans, and $220 billion of loans held by life insurance companies that run the risk of being in non-monetary default without the availability of terrorism coverage. This lack of coverage raises profound liquidity concerns not only the $1.7 trillion of existing real estate loans and the institutions that hold them but on the ability of borrowers to secure any type of financing going forward.

Any characterization of this legislation as a ''bail out'' for the insurance industry is inaccurate. The Federal government needs to help ensure that commercial property owners and other businesses can continue to obtain insurance coverage for losses related to terrorism in the future. It is important to act as soon as possible because there are policies expiring every day, and new transactions pending which are being impacted by the lack of resolution of this issue.

As the organization that represents the nation's principal public and privately held commercial property owners, investors and lenders we would like to thank the Senate for its leadership in attempting to provide a mechanism to ensure that our nation's properties are able to maintain terrorism insurance coverage. Again, we urge you to act expeditiously to enact terrorist insurance legislation prior to adjournment this year.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey D. DeBoer
President & Chief Operating Officer

Legislative Alert

* * * Urgent Action Item * * *

Senate negotiators continue to work on the final details of a terrorism insurance bill. They are very close to a deal, and Senate floor action could occur THIS WEEK. At this point, it is critical to contact key Senators involved in the negotiations and impress upon them the urgent need for legislation to create a federal backstop to ensure that companies can get and/or renew workers compensation and property and casualty insurance policies so they can continue doing business.

Listed on the back of this page are the names of the key Senate members who need to be contacted. Time is of the essence and we need your help! Please call them ASAP and tell them:

- Urgency. Since 70 percent of reinsurance treaties are renewable on a calendar-year basis, these policies will need to be renewed by January 1, 2002. Reinsurers provide coverage for front-line insurance carriers and are no longer offering coverage for terrorism losses. A federal backstop would allow reinsurers to come back into the market with more assurance that this coverage would not bankrupt them. It would also allow businesses to retain affordable insurance against risk of terrorism losses.

- Workers Compensation. In 35 states, companies can self-insure for workers compensation claims. However, even self-insured companies need to reinsure. Reinsurance for workers compensation claims related to terrorism losses is virtually unavailable, and what is available is generally unaffordable.

- Transportation. The trucking and railroad industries are having difficulty finding any insurance at all, regardless of cost. These companies cannot operate without insurance. Manufacturers rely on common carriers to deliver components for just-in-time manufacturing and to deliver finished product to market. Without needed transportation, these companies will be effectively out of business.

- Liability. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance claims places a potential burden on American taxpayers. Therefore, we also support reasonable limits on the liability of non-terrorists for damages caused by an act of terrorism, so long as all businesses are treated equally. Those who are truly injured or damaged by an act of terrorism should receive fair and fast compensation—but not a windfall, especially at a cost to the U.S. government.

(over)

Senate leaders and the Administration have largely agreed on a workable solution to avoid the dire economic consequences of the lack of terrorism insurance. This solution would ensure that terrorism insurance is available and affordable, but only if it is considered on the Senate floor right away! The short-term program provides economic stability without costing taxpayers a dime unless there is another major terrorist act in the near future. Without this temporary program, insurers are unable to price and therefore cannot offer terrorism coverage. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance is not an insurance industry bailout or merely an "insurance" issue. It is an economic issue. Given the current economic recession, it is especially important to ensure that the economy has the means it needs to recover. The American economy will suffer if Congress fails to act.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF
REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUSTS®

December 11, 2001

The Honorable Don Nickles
United States Senate
133 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Nickles:

The National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts (NAREIT), representing REITs and publicly traded real estate companies, urges you to quickly enact legislation to ensure that affordable insurance coverage is available to businesses to cover future financial losses related to terrorist attacks. It is critical that this legislation be passed prior to the conclusion of this Congressional session.

It is estimated that over 70 percent of businesses and owners of commercial and residential properties renew their insurance coverage on January 1 each year. Many of these owners have been advised that their policies will not be renewed or that their new policies will exclude risks associated with terrorist acts. Unless Congress acts now to ensure the availability of affordable terrorism coverage in the marketplace, the real estate industry's ability to finance, construct, sell or buy properties across the country will be at risk and significant economic dislocation will likely occur.

The House of Representatives has taken an important step toward crafting a workable solution to this problem through the passage of H.R. 3210, the Terrorism Risk Protection Act. It is crucial that the Senate act quickly to pass similar legislation. Ultimately, NAREIT supports a compromise package that creates a workable temporary federal program that ensures the availability of affordable terrorism insurance coverage for businesses. Also included should be reasonable liability reform provisions designed to benefit the victims of a terrorist attack so that all affected parties will receive appropriate damages.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this important legislation.

Sincerely,

Steven A. Wechsler
President and CEO

The Real Estate Roundtable

RE: Terrorism Risk Protection Legislation

To Members of the U.S. Senate:

As bi-partisan negotiations with the Bush Administration continue over features of a Senate version of the House-passed Terrorism Risk Protection Act, I am writing to urge you to expedite introduction and enactment of legislation to create a workable solution in the marketplace for the renewed availability of terrorism insurance coverage.

The events of September 11th dislocated reinsurance markets and eliminated the availability of primary terrorist insurance coverage at virtually any price. As a result, the real estate and construction industries, which account for over a quarter of the nation's gross domestic product, could face severe economic dislocation in the coming months if the Federal government does not immediately address insurance-related issues tied to terrorism.

Without Federal action, the ability to finance, construct, buy or sell commercial properties across the nation will be at risk – affecting not only real estate owners and lenders but the tenants who lease facilities, their employees and customers, as well as anyone who rents an apartment. While many commercial property owners are already affected, a significant percentage of properties, including apartments, shopping centers, offices and hotels are scheduled to renew their insurance coverage on January 1st. Many of these owners have already been advised that their policies will not be renewed or that their new policies will exclude exposures currently insured including terrorism.

As the current policies expire, there is tremendous uncertainty about the status of real estate debt, with some $700 billion in commercial bank debt, $350 billion of commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS) loans, and $220 billion of loans held by life insurance companies that run the risk of being in non-monetary default without the availability of terrorism coverage. This lack of coverage raises profound liquidity concerns not only the $1.7 trillion of existing real estate loans and the institutions that hold them but on the ability of borrowers to secure any type of financing going forward.

Any characterization of this legislation as a ''bail out'' for the insurance industry is inaccurate. The Federal government needs to help ensure that commercial property owners and other businesses can continue to obtain insurance coverage for losses related to terrorism in the future. It is important to act as soon as possible because there are policies expiring every day, and new transactions pending which are being impacted by the lack of resolution of this issue.

As the organization that represents the nation's principal public and privately held commercial property owners, investors and lenders we would like to thank the Senate for its leadership in attempting to provide a mechanism to ensure that our nation's properties are able to maintain terrorism insurance coverage. Again, we urge you to act expeditiously to enact terrorist insurance legislation prior to adjournment this year.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey D. DeBoer
President & Chief Operating Officer

Legislative Alert

* * * Urgent Action Item * * *

Senate negotiators continue to work on the final details of a terrorism insurance bill. They are very close to a deal, and Senate floor action could occur THIS WEEK. At this point, it is critical to contact key Senators involved in the negotiations and impress upon them the urgent need for legislation to create a federal backstop to ensure that companies can get and/or renew workers compensation and property and casualty insurance policies so they can continue doing business.

Listed on the back of this page are the names of the key Senate members who need to be contacted. Time is of the essence and we need your help! Please call them ASAP and tell them:

- Urgency. Since 70 percent of reinsurance treaties are renewable on a calendar-year basis, these policies will need to be renewed by January 1, 2002. Reinsurers provide coverage for front-line insurance carriers and are no longer offering coverage for terrorism losses. A federal backstop would allow reinsurers to come back into the market with more assurance that this coverage would not bankrupt them. It would also allow businesses to retain affordable insurance against risk of terrorism losses.

- Workers Compensation. In 35 states, companies can self-insure for workers compensation claims. However, even self-insured companies need to reinsure. Reinsurance for workers compensation claims related to terrorism losses is virtually unavailable, and what is available is generally unaffordable.

- Transportation. The trucking and railroad industries are having difficulty finding any insurance at all, regardless of cost. These companies cannot operate without insurance. Manufacturers rely on common carriers to deliver components for just-in-time manufacturing and to deliver finished product to market. Without needed transportation, these companies will be effectively out of business.

- Liability. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance claims places a potential burden on American taxpayers. Therefore, we also support reasonable limits on the liability of non-terrorists for damages caused by an act of terrorism, so long as all businesses are treated equally. Those who are truly injured or damaged by an act of terrorism should receive fair and fast compensation—but not a windfall, especially at a cost to the U.S. government.

(over)

Senate leaders and the Administration have largely agreed on a workable solution to avoid the dire economic consequences of the lack of terrorism insurance. This solution would ensure that terrorism insurance is available and affordable, but only if it is considered on the Senate floor right away! The short-term program provides economic stability without costing taxpayers a dime unless there is another major terrorist act in the near future. Without this temporary program, insurers are unable to price and therefore cannot offer terrorism coverage. A federal backstop for terrorism insurance is not an insurance industry bailout or merely an "insurance" issue. It is an economic issue. Given the current economic recession, it is especially important to ensure that the economy has the means it needs to recover. The American economy will suffer if Congress fails to act.

Attached please find a revised side-by-side (please discard earlier draft) and the outline of what a possible consensus bill might look like. Please let us know your thoughts ASAP.

Also, as I think everyone is already aware, I will be leaving town with my family on Tuesday, and won't be back until the 26th. I've already postponed our holiday plans once, and I'm afraid my kids will never speak to me again if I try to postpone again. I deeply regret that I won't be around to finalize this legislation (if we reach that point) but wish you all the best in bringing this legislative saga to a successful conclusion. I think we have worked as a highly effective team and, win or lose, we can be proud of our effort.

I'll still be around Monday. From Tuesday on, I can be reached at my parents house in Florida, PRA 6 e-mail, PRA 6 Ed DeMarco, PRA 6 and his team will be carrying on in my absence.

Thanks
Sheila

TERRORISM RISK INSURANCE COMPARISON

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Loss Sharing Program	One-year program with one-year extension at the Secretary of the Treasury's (Secretary) discretion. Program administered by the Secretary. Per Company Deductible: Each participating primary P&C company has a deductible established as its market share of gross premiums multiplied by $10 billion. Once the company has paid insured losses equal to its deductible, it the Government pays 80% of additional losses incurred by that company and the company pays the remaining 20 percent. Once aggregate losses have reached $10 billion, the loss sharing formula converts to 90/10. If aggregate losses exceed $10 billion, the Secretary is responsible for determining each company's pro rata share of the government's loss-sharing payments.	One-year program administered by Secretary of the Treasury (Secretary) in which government provides "financial assistance" to commercial P&C insurance companies based on one of two "triggering events." (1) Industry-wide trigger: If there is an "industry-wide triggering event" (described below), each insurer receives financial assistance equal to the difference between 90% of the insurer's net losses (net of reinsured losses) and $5 million. Individual insurer trigger: If there is an "individual insurer triggering event," each insurer eligible to receive financial assistance under the triggering determination receives financial assistance equal to the difference between 90% of its insured losses and 10% of its net P&C premiums (net of reinsurance premiums) in force at the time of the insured losses. • If the Secretary subsequently determines that an industry-wide trigger has occurred, 10% of premium deductible is refunded, and the deductible under the industry-wide trigger is applied. • Coverage under the (individual insurer?) trigger applies only to those commercial insurers who were providing commercial P&C coverage prior to 9/11.

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Sunset Provisions	The program sunsets on December 31, 2002. Secretary may extend to a second year. One-Year Extension: The Secretary may determine, based on the findings of a mandated report, that the program should be extended for one year, to Dec. 31, 2003. In that event, the loss-sharing is the same as in the first year but the per-company allocation is based on market shaer multipled by $15 billion.	The program sunsets on January 1, 2003. Secretary may extend the program by not more than 2 years. Program Extension: Aggregate industry obligation amount for assessments will be the lesser of (1) Difference between $10 billion and aggregate amount of assessments made in the prior 12 months or, (2) the amount of financial assistance made available.
Triggering Event	Coverage commences when an individual participating insurance company's insured losses exceed its deductible.	Secretary makes a "triggering determination" that commercial P&C losses from one or more acts of terrorism exceed (1) $1 billion industry-wide or (2) $100 million industry-wide and losses for any single insurer exceed 10% of the insurer's capital surplus and 10% of its commercial P&C net premiums.

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Coverage Requirements	Participating insurer must offer terrorism coverage in all its commercial P&C policies and may, within 21 days, opt-in to participate with respect to its personal lines. Terrorism coverage must not differ materially from its other P&C coverage. Policyholder must file claim with participating insurer, which processes the claim and submits it to the Secretary along with (1) verification of the claim and payments made to policyholder and (2) certification of compliance with the program.	None
Cap on Coverage	$100 billion annual losses, after which Congress decides the procedures for and source of any excess payments. Industry not liable over $100 billion.	Total amount of Federal financial assistance may not exceed an aggregate amount of $100 billion. Sense of Congress that acts of terrorism resulting in insured losses greater than $100 billion would necessitate further Congressional action.

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Recoupment of Federal Payments	None	All Federal financial assistance must be repaid from assessments and surcharges imposed on all commercial P&C insurers and deposited into the general fund of the Treasury. Aggregate Assessments: If losses from a single terrorist event are less than $20 billion, financial assistance is repaid from a combination of an "industry obligation assessment" and, if necessary, one or more "financing assessments." • Both types of assessments are imposed on all commercial P&C insurers based on the ratio of the firm's net premiums to the industry's gross premiums for commercial P&C coverage. • (1) Industry obligation assessment: Capped at $5 billion per year ($10 billion in Years 2 and 3 if extended). If a triggering determination occurs within 12 months of a previous determination, the Assessments from the subsequent determination will be imposed at the end of the quarterly assessment period.

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Recoupment of Federal Payments (cont'd)		Surcharges: If losses from one terrorist event exceed $20 billion, surcharges are imposed to repay financial assistance exceeding $20 billion. • Surcharges are based on a percentage of commercial P&C net premiums and may extend over multiple years to recoup full federal payment. The Secretary determines the amount and duration of the surcharge after weighing various factors including cost to taxpayers of not establishing a surcharge, economic conditions, affordability for small and medium-sized businesses, etc. • Individual insurer's portion of surcharges may not exceed 3% of its annual written premiums. • Secretary may defer payments to avoid insolvency. General: • Secretary may defer payment of assessments and surcharges to avoid insolvency. • Secretary may impose civil penalties and/or charge interest for overdue assessments. Secretary must prescribe manner and method, including amounts, of carrying out assessments and surcharges, taking into consideration various factors including impact on small businesses, cross-subsidization, and the various exposures of different lines of commercial P&C coverage.

Business interruption does not include lost profits unless entity is a small business under Small Business Act. Participating Insurers	Defined as any insurance company, including any subsidiary or affiliate, that is (1) licensed primary insurer or (2) unlicensed "eligible surplus line carrier" listed by the NAIC (3) that received direct premiums for any type of commercial P&C coverage or that, within 21 days, opt-in with respect to personal P&C lines.	Defined as any commercial P&C insurer, including affiliates, and expressly includes reinsurers and retrocessional insurers. Secretary of Treasury must ensure that Act applies to any offshore or non-admitted entities that provide commercial P&C insurance.
Program Administrator and Authority	Secretary of Treasury, who may: (1) investigate and audit claims; and (2) prescribe regulations and procedures; (3) employ persons or contract for services; (4) assess civil money penalties for violations of the Act or regulations or orders; and (5) prescribe criteria for participating insurance companies.	Secretary of Treasury, who: (1) must consult with state insurance regulators and NAIC; (2) may prescribe regulations and procedures; (3) may require insurers to report net premiums for each commercial P&C line; (4) may investigate and audit claims and require verification of premiums or losses; (5) may assess civil money penalties or interest for nonpayment of assessments and surcharges; (6) must prescribe manner and method of assessments and surcharges.
Self-Insurance Arrangements	The Secretary may, in consultation with NAIC, establish procedures allowing municipalities and other governmental or quasi-governmental entities operating through self-insurance arrangements to participate in the Program.	Secretary of the Treasury, in consultation with the NAIC, may apply Act to self-insurance arrangements by municipalities and other entities. This must be determined before the occurrence of a triggering event. All the provisions of the Act must be uniformly applied to these entities.

Definition of "Act of Terrorism"	Act certified by the Secretary, in concurrence with Sec of State and Attorney General, that is • Violent or dangerous to human life, property, or infrastructure within U.S. (or outside U.S. for an air carrier); • is committed by an individual or group acting on behalf of any foreign person or foreign interest; and • is intended to coerce civilian population or influence policy or affect the conduct of the U.S. Government by coercion. Excludes act of war declared by Congress. Excludes losses under $5 million. Determinations are final and not subject to judicial review. Requirements for "act of terrorism" are defined and specified by the Secretary in consultation with the NAIC. A terrorist act is: • Unlawful; • causes harm in the U.S. to person, property, or entity, or in the case of a domestic U.S. air carrier or U.S. flag vessel, in or outside the U.S.; • is committed by a person or group of persons recognized by the State Department or the Secretary of the Treasury as a terrorist group or conspirator either before or after such act; and • is intended to destabilize a sovereign government or affect conduct of the United States government by coercion. Excludes act of war. Certifications are not subject to judicial review
Who Certifies that Loss was Caused by Act of Terrorism?	Secretary	Secretary of the Treasury, who also determines whether: (1) insured losses were caused by one or multiple events, and (2) the act of terrorism occurred during the covered period.

Issue	12/13/01 cob Draft Senate Bill	House-Passed Bill
Preemption / Coordination with State Regulators	Preempts (1) state definitions of "act of terrorism" and (2) state rules requiring pre-approval of premiums or waiting periods for adopting premiums. (States may invalidate terrorism rates as excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory.) Provides that books and records of participating insurance companies shall be provided to the Secretary upon his request, notwithstanding state laws. No preemption unless specifically provided.	Preempts (1) state definitions of "act of terrorism;" (2) state rate laws to extent necessary to cover assessments and approval or other conditions to policy or rate effectiveness; and (3) any action other than filing of rates and policies with State insurance regulator to the extent that such law requires additional actions for terrorism insurance coverage. Does not limit implied preemption. Sense of Congress that NAIC and states should adopt: • Consistent federal and state definitions of acts of terrorism; • Within 6 months, appropriate guidelines for reserves subject to Secretary of the Treasury adoption of national guidelines; and • Disclosure guidelines subject to Secretary of the Treasury's adoption of national guidelines.

Disclosure to policyholders	At time of offer, purchase, or renewal of each policy, insurance company must disclose to the policyholder the premium charged for losses covered by the program and the Federal share of compensation under the program. For in-force contracts, disclosure required within 90 days.	Sense of Congress that states should require disclosure of the price of any P&C insurance for acts of terrorism, including costs of terrorism related assessments or surcharges. If states do not enact disclosure guidelines, the Secretary of the Treasury and the NAIC should adopt guidelines requiring the disclosure.
Ability to sue terrorist or terrorist's country	Act does not limit ability of any plaintiff to recover from any person, government, or other entity that participated in or aided and abetted any act of terrorism.	Act does not limit ability of any plaintiff to recover from any person that participated in or aided and abetted any act of terrorism.
Insurance Industry Build-Up	Sense of Congress that insurance industry should build up its capacity to provide affordable coverage for terrorism risk.	No provision.
Tax Provision	No provision.	Secretary shall issue a study within 4 months on issues relating to permitting P&C companies to establish tax-deductible reserves against future acts of terrorism.
Participating Insurer's Reports	Every 6 months participating insurance companies must report to the NAIC the premium rates charged for insured losses, including an explanation of and justification for those rates. The NAIC must forward copies of those reports to the Secretary, the Commerce Secretary, the FTC, and GAO.	Each insurer may be required by the Secretary to submit to the Secretary or the NAIC a statement specifying the net premium amount of coverage written under each line of commercial P&C sold by the insurer during a specified period.

Terrorism Risk Insurance – Post Conference Compromise

Participating Insurance Companies

- Participation would be mandatory for commercial property and casualty insurers and only available for the types of commercial property and casualty insurance described in the House bill (definitions) with the following exceptions: insured loss from debt or default (i.e., credit guarantee) would not be included; insured losses covered by other government programs would be excluded (e.g., crop insurance and to the extent U.S. flag carriers are covered); and the Senate version of business interruption would be substituted.

  Senate bill requires mandatory participation for commercial lines, but permits optional participation for personal lines. House bill does not have mandatory participation. Senate version provides discretion to the Secretary to determine covered commercial lines. House version provides more certainty, which is needed given the short time frame to implementation. Could provide the Secretary limited discretion to exclude certain lines.

- Only primary insurance companies would be allowed to participate. For in-force insurance policies as of the date of enactment, reinsurers would be provided with a legal claim for the portion of government loss sharing payments provided to the primary insurance company that is in proportion to losses under existing contracts.

  House bill permits full participation by reinsurers. Senate bill is mostly tied to primary insurers. In-force provision is necessary to avoid double payments accruing to primary insurance companies and to encourage reinsurers to provide coverage for primary insurers' loss retentions (i.e., deductible and losses in excess of government compensation).

Loss Sharing Program

- One-year program that is extendable by the Secretary for an additional year.

[Here are two options for dealing with the per company deductible. Still think that specifying a number in legislation based on gross premiums is the best approach for the following reasons:

- It in conjunction with the above definition of covered lines provides insurers immediate certainty as to their deductible (they do not have to wait for a regulation).
- Doing a regulation might have made some sense with optional coverage, but with that gone it is no longer needed.
- It seems pretty obvious that 7.5 percent approximates the $10 billion loss approach in the Senate, whether gross or net premiums are used, so why not just specify it as opposed to having the Secretary determine it?
- Gross is preferable because net reflects a ceding of reinsurance premiums that presumably will not happen for terrorism risk.]

- Deductible Option 1: Participating insurance company deductible equal to 7.5 percent of gross premiums.

The 7.5 percent of gross premiums approximate what the deductible would be under the Senate bill and a $10 billion loss (although under the Senate bill it could be higher or lower depending on the level of participation). It is less stringent than the deductible under the House bill's individual insurer triggering mechanism, and more stringent than deductible under the House bill's industry-wide trigger. Gross premiums would be favored because net premiums are based on an active reinsurance market that no longer exists. Specifying a clear percentage in legislation provides immediate certainty to insurance companies regarding their deductible. Double triggering mechanism under the House bill would be eliminated.

- Deductible Option 2: Participating insurance company deductible would be set to equal to the dollar amount equal to the participating insurance company's market share of net domestic property and casualty premiums as determined by the Secretary multiplied by $10 billion.

  Follows the Senate bill with a specific link to $10 billion, but picks up the House bill's use of net premiums. Expected per company deductible would be approximately 7.5 percent of premiums with no personal line coverage.

- Government loss sharing above the deductible would be set on a 90/10 basis.

  House bill has 90/10 loss sharing above a deductible, while the Senate bill has 90/10 loss sharing above the deductible if aggregate losses are less than $10 billion, and 80/20 if aggregate losses are greater than $10 billion. Because there is going to be some recoupment mechanism for a portion of government payments, the two-tiered loss sharing mechanism in the Senate bill would be eliminated.

Recoupment of Federal Payments

- For any government payments to insurance companies of up to $10 billion dollars during a calendar year, all commercial policyholders with covered lines would be required to pay a surcharge of up to 3 percent of premiums per year until government payments are recouped. Surcharges would be made as soon as practical at the end of the calendar year, and at annual intervals until government payments were fully recouped.

  House bill requires assessments for government payments up to $20 billion and has a complicated procedure for implementing such assessments. Senate bill does not have any recoupment mechanism. Surcharges are favored over assessments because of greater transparency regarding ultimate costs to policyholders for government recoupment and a broader spreading of the costs.

- For any government payments to insurance companies of over $10 billion dollars during a calendar year, no government assessment or surcharge would be collected.

  House bill authorizes surcharges on policyholders for government payments over $20 billion. Senate bill does not have any recoupment mechanism. Federal recoupment would be limited to $10 billion to avoid any adverse impact on the economy.

Did you see Krauthammer this morning? He had a great line about the French showing up in Afghanistan only at the end of the campaign -- to show the Taliban how to surrender.

Welcome to Europe, Mr. Ashcroft (WSJ)
Editorial
The Wall Street Journal, December 14, 2001
We'll admit to long amusement at the unique moral sensibilities of Europe, especially the French. No doubt Attorney General Ashcroft will get a lot of belly laughs on his four-nation European tour.
Just for a warm-up, French Justice Minister Marylise Lebranchu has offered "counselor protection" to indicted French-Moroccan terrorist Zacarias Moussaoui. As another act of hospitality, the European Parliament declared that it "considers that the U.S. Patriot Act, which discriminates against non-U.S. citizens, and President Bush's executive order on military tribunals are contrary to the principles" of human rights.

Europe needs to understand how most Americans are going to react to this: Something like, we hope your moral grandstanding is enough by itself to take Omaha Beach the next time around.

These worthies are announcing that the fate of a few convicted terrorists is a matter of high principle, while the death of some 3,200 innocent Americans is not. It's possible to be confused on how seriously Americans take the terror threat if all you do is read the New York Times, though even its arm-chair civil libertarians have begun to calm down as they see that their hyperbole was overwrought.

French connection

Most Americans recognized from the first that the Bush Administration would handle tribunals and other special powers with respect for the rule of law, as (despite occasional mistakes) past wartime American governments have. A better indication of U.S. opinion is no less than Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton, who endorsed military tribunals once she examined the precedents, er, the polls.

The Europeans, though, seem intent on using the issue to score cheap points with their own electorates. Take Minister Lebranchu's intervention in the Moussaoui case. Suspected of being the missing 20th hijacker of September 11, he was charged by the U.S. Justice Department on Tuesday with six counts of conspiracy, four of which carry the death penalty. Her French moral highness responded by offering him diplomatic immunity, as she put it, because "obviously, no person receiving French consular protection can be executed."

As it happens, Moussaoui was indicted in a civilian court, not by a military tribunal, so the Europeans are declaring their refusal to cooperate with the American civil-justice system. First they said they wouldn't extradite terrorists because of the tribunals, then the reason is the death penalty and now they say they are willing to pay terrorist legal fees. Next they'll hire Johnnie Cochran.

Now, Americans also consider the death penalty to be a moral issue; some of us would call it a test of a civilization's seriousness in coping with the evil side of human nature revealed by the World Trade Center mass murders. We'd even add that the French announcement of aid to Moussaoui is an example of the immoral appeasement that has allowed terrorists to run wild for 20 years.

But in the interest of comity and practicality, the U.S. has agreed not to seek the death penalty in some extradition cases. Would that Europe showed comparable accommodation. If the death penalty so offends them, perhaps Parisians would be willing to take the terrorists back after their U.S. conviction and be responsible for their imprisonment. Or, if the French are in a paying mood, maybe they'd reimburse the cost of lifetime incarceration stateside, along with some payments to judges who need the lifetime protection of federal marshals after presiding over terror trials.

Just for the legal record, by the way, under the Vienna Convention of 1963, "consular protection" allows the accused person's country of origin to facilitate contacts with authorities, to ensure that he is being correctly treated and is able to receive family visits. It says nothing about preventing justice from being carried out.

Also for the record, Moussaoui was arrested in Minnesota four weeks before September 11 after flight-school instructors became suspicious because the novice trainee wanted to learn to fly jumbo jets. He is alleged to have traveled to al Qaeda camps, and he's been on a French watch list of suspected Islamic terrorists since 1999.

Among his contacts was Ramsi Binalshibh, a Yemeni who investigators think would have been the 20th terrorist had he been able to get a U.S. visa, which he failed to do four times. Mr. Binalshibh wired $14,000 to Moussaoui a month before September 11, which would have helped pay for the $6,300 fee at the flight school. The Yemeni also wired money to one of the hijackers. His number was in Mr. Moussaoui's personal address book.

It's charming that Europeans are worried about an outbreak of American fascism, though we'd point out that the real version always seems to pop up on their side of the pond. But confronting the U.S. on this issue will have a lasting and damaging effect on trans-Atlantic ties. Spain has walked point against military tribunals, so it shouldn't expect help bailing out its banks if they go under in Argentina. The Bosnian peacekeepers might very well have to do without the U.S. Army. And forget about a European defense force using U.S. airlift.

To adapt the Bush Doctrine to Europe, on bringing terrorists to justice, you're either for us or against us.

President Reaches Out to Break Senate Log-Jam on Economy

Saturday's Presidential Action:

- In his weekly radio address to the nation, President Bush called on the Senate to act and pass legislation to stimulate the economy and provide needed help for displaced workers. Almost 800,000 Americans have lost jobs since the President first called for an economic stimulus package. While the House of Representatives acted quickly on a package to promote job creation and help displaced workers, the Senate's leaders have failed to act.

- This week, the President once again reached out to break the log-jam in the Senate – by working to build a consensus that draws on proposals by Democrats and Republicans alike. The package would provide over $20 billion for dislocated workers and would deliver this relief as quickly as possible. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, the bipartisan framework would save 300,000 American jobs that might otherwise be lost.

- For months, important legislation has been stalled, delayed and sidetracked due to the leadership vacuum in the Senate. The holidays are upon us and time is running out. A majority of the Senate supports the President's bipartisan framework for job creation and displaced worker assistance. It's time for the Senate leadership to act.

President Bush: Real Leadership to Help America's Workers

- Earlier this week, the President proposed to break through the Senate log-jam over economic stimulus. Key elements of the bipartisan framework proposed by President Bush include:

Tax Cuts for Low- and Middle-Income Workers

- Providing tax rebate payments of up to $600 to low-income families struggling to make ends meet.
- Lowering the 27 percent tax rate to 25 percent would provide 36 million hard-working taxpayers with relief.

Job Creating Tax Cuts

- Lowering the 27 percent rate would provide relief to 10 million small business owners for business expansion.
- Allowing all businesses to immediately deduct 30 percent of the cost of new investments for three years would significantly reduce the cost of job creating new business investment, particularly in capital-intensive sectors such as manufacturing and telecommunications.
- Providing relief from the onerous and job-killing corporate Alternative Minimum Tax – which raises the tax rate as profits drop – will help businesses struggling to maintain their payroll levels.

Relief for Displaced Workers

- Providing an additional 13 weeks of unemployment assistance to workers who have been laid off since the recession began last March. These extended benefits would be financed completely by the federal government.
- Giving states over $4 billion in federal aid to expand benefits to additional displaced workers, such as part-time workers, and provide $3 billion in National Emergency Grants. Because they would go through an existing program, these funds would be available to help workers in a matter of weeks.
- Helping unemployed workers keep their health insurance by providing an innovative new tax credit worth up to $3,528 a year. Workers would be able to keep their health insurance regardless of whether they have COBRA.
- Speeding relief to workers by cutting red tape. Unlike some proposals considered by the Senate, the President's framework does not require state legislation or state matching funds to provide coverage. Assistance gets rapidly to the workers who need it most.

If you are going to be out of the office and/or out of the DC area over the Christmas and New Year holidays please let me know what dates you are out of town and how you can be reached. We need to submit a contact list to Signal so they know where to find everyone.

So far I show Allison, Rachel and Brad out the week of Christmas.

Call 5-0188 if you have a question re: your leave balance. Leave policy can be found on p. A-11 of the staff handbook.

Thanks!

1. Model Issues: Price Waterhouse has made a few changes to the model. (1) Instead of applying a flat retirement age for each tranche, it has incorporated worklife expectancies based on age into the model. It thinks these are more supportable. (2) It has adjusted downward the assumptions that were made about salary increases for higher earners, since it thought our assumptions were too generous. It is sending the results, and I will circulate them to the group. Would a call tomorrow at 4 pm on Saturday work for the group? Debby isn't available much earlier than that. Debby is going to circulate call-in information.

I wanted to flag one issue for decision. Our original approach used general consumption assumptions based on family size and income. We were concerned that this approach resulted in awards that were extremely high for high-income singles. OMB staff therefore modified the consumption assumptions, to take into account family size, income, AND age. The result was to bring down awards for high-income singles.

BUT the change also had the effect of creating a greater disparity of awards to low and high income singles (particularly the younger ones), compared to low and high income marrieds.

FOR EXAMPLE, a 25 year-old single who earns 30K would get 375, whereas the 100K comparable single would get $1.573M, for a ratio of 1 : 4.2. By contrast, the 25 year old 30K married would get $1.324M, whereas the 100K comparable married would get 3.284, for a ratio of 1 : 2.4. Under the earlier version, by contrast, the ratios between the different categories were the same. That is, the high-earner single got more than the low-earner single, but in the same proportion that the high-earner married got to the low-earner married. The changes to the consumption numbers could be viewed as unfair to the low earner singles. They are, however, based on data that Price Waterhouse believes is accurate.

2. Roll-out Issues: I also wanted to let Debby and DOJ know that I've done some initial tracking down of various organizations of professionals who are willing to help claimants with the program. Financial Services Forum and the American Institute of CPAs have both set up volunteer programs and have members lined up to assist victims in investing lump sum awards. In addition, FEMA has given me some names of lawyer groups who may be available to victims - the NY Mass Disaster Response Committee and the ABA Disaster section. I also have some information from Governor Pataki's office regarding NY State Insurance and Banking organizations. Please let me know if you'd like phone numbers/contact info.

Also, Debby tells me that they have concrete offers of assistance from various law firms. Also, Morrison and Foerster has put together a resource handbook. She would like to know if we call them and ask them to update it and make it available through our or the NY Atty General web site.

how does our leave time become known to payroll people; who in this office forwards such info to them; how can we find out what days have been identified as vacation days; I think I have been out 6 days (one week this summer and the Friday after T'giving) and just want to make sure that's what is recorded wherever . . .
